NEW FACTS GIVEN BY CONLEY

Admissions to Prosecutor's Aide Strengthens Rumor That He Saw Girl Just Before Crime.

Frank A. Hooper, associated with Solicitor Dorey in the prosecution of Leo M. Frank on the charge of strangling Mary Phagan, admitted Saturday that Jim Conley, negro sweeper at the National Pencil Factory, had made important admissions to the story of his part in the murder mystery and had told of circumstances on the day of the crime which he had revealed in none of his previous statements.

A persistent rumor that Conley had made the startling admission that he had seen Mary Phagan enter the factory on the day she was slain arose at the time the negro was questioned more than an hour by Solicitor Dorey early in the week, and this rumor was heightened after Attorney Hooper's interview with the negro Friday.

In all of his statements to the detectives Conley denied he saw the girl at all on the day of the crime until he was horrified by the sight of her dead body lying in the rear of the second floor where he was detained by Leo Frank. Solicitor Dorey is believed to have wrung the statement from him that he did see Mary Phagan when she came in the door of the factory and went to the second floor to Frank's office.

Hooper Mum on Topic.
Mr. Hooper refused either to affirm or deny this report, declaring that his connection with the case was so recent that he would not be warranted in making any definite statement for publication in reference to the evidence in the possession of the prosecution.

His attention was called to the fact that while in all of the published statements of Conley he had denied seeing Mary Phagan go into the factory, no one connected with the prosecution could now be induced to believe that he still stuck to the particular and puzzling feature of his story. Mr. Hooper, however, would make no comment on the circumstance.

He contented himself with the general assertion that the State has a big stack of evidence of which the defense is in entire ignorance and of which they will remain ignorant until it is presented when Frank is placed on trial for his life.

"I want to see the police allow yesterday merely for the purpose of having Conley rehearse his story to me," said Mr. Hooper. "I am sure that he told me of a number of circumstances of which I had been in ignorance because of circumstances which have a most important bearing on the case. He made additions to his story which, while they were along the same general line as his last affidavit, gave a detail that assisted me remarkably in getting a much clearer idea of the events as they happened on that day."

Will Be Revealed at Trial.
"I can not tell what they are. They will be revealed when the trial is in actual progress. Mr. Dorey has guarded his evidence carefully and has refrained from trying his case in the papers. If it were not presumptuous for me to step in and give this evidence away to the public and to the defense it would at least be unwise."

"The negro appeared to be telling a straightforward story. He said nothing that caused me to alter my theory of the killing in the least. So far as I know, there never has been any serious doubt that those who were bloody guilty there on the second floor. I am confident that it was there that the attack was made. I questioned Conley only occasionally, preferring to let him go ahead and tell his story in his own way. Only when some point puzzled me for a moment did I stop him for an explanation."

MANY EXPERTS TO TAKE STAND IN FRANK TRIAL

Great Array of Finger-Print and Blood-Stain Students Will Give Their Views.

The trial of Leo M. Frank will bring forth the most prominent array of criminal and medical experts ever grouped in a Southern court room. This became known Saturday when Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey began making preparations to have the skilled investigators who have worked in the Phagan case return to Atlanta for the trial, July 15.

The defense has not been idle and is prepared to have an expert on almost every conceivable angle to introduce in rebuttal.

Fingerprint experts were brought into the case almost immediately after it was taken from the hands of the police by Solicitor Dorsey. One of the most prominent of these, who has figured in solving many New York mysteries, was the first to be brought South. He spent several days in a minute investigation of the scene of the crime, articles of clothing and the fingerprints of every suspect in the case. Other experts in the same line followed him.

Solicitor Dorsey did not trust wholly to the examination of Dr. Hurt, the coroner's physician, who could not qualify as an expert in the Appalachian trial, but sent with him one of the most prominent of the Atlanta medical experts.

Blood Stain Important.
The importance of blood stains in the Phagan case is being played to the hilt. The state's case rests almost entirely on the ability to prove the blood found on the second floor of the pencil factory was the blood of Mary Phagan. It is conceded the evidence of the negro Jim Conley, that he found the body on this floor may be found weak when he goes before a jury.

The blood-stained floor was clipped and the examination made by the state's experts. This is an advantage for the prosecution.

Another point on which experts will be asked to testify will be as to the age of blood after the body is buried. Blood was found in two places on the factory floor. The expert said he dropped the body in the basement and yet the blood was found on the second floor.

The state's experts say they have been first found in him. He has been found to have produced death, but that it was lifted or moved so that the wound below the level of the body blood would.

MACON SUBURB WOULD BE INCORPORATED IN CITY

Macon, June 28.—(Special Correspondent.)—The city of Macon is contemplating the incorporation of a large section of the city of Macon into the city of Macon. The city council has passed a resolution to this effect.

Brilliant Legal Battle Is Sure as Hooper And Arnold Clash in Trial of Leo Frank

By An Old Police Reporter.

As dependable as the Phagan case is in all its intricate details, it is almost inevitable enough that there will come of it eventually much that the community may be thankful for.

In the first place, Atlanta and Georgia, and incidentally the entire South will have learned a good lesson in law and order, justice and fair play, and to that extent may be the better prepared for the next case of the kind that comes to their attention.

In the second place, there will be in the future no such wretched bungling and frenzied appeal in and from police headquarters, as for a time marked the Phagan case unique among its kind.

It looks now as if the decks have been neatly well cleared for action and that Leo Frank's trial may be expected to proceed in dignity and order, and that in its final analysis the truth of Mary Phagan's murder may be established, at least to the extent of Frank's real or suspected participation therein.

If Frank should be convicted, that would mean the subsequent indictment and conviction of the negro Jim Conley, as an accessory after the fact.

If Frank should be found not guilty, it would mean the indictment and conviction of the negro Jim Conley, as a material witness in the Phagan case.

There always is a chance, however, that a grand jury will find the possibility of prior indictment in any case.

I have not likely to see the case in any other way.

The state's experts say they have been first found in him. He has been found to have produced death, but that it was lifted or moved so that the wound below the level of the body blood would.

His statement as the truth in its entirety, and to the satisfaction of all the sworn testimony, if it were true, or it may accept it in part and reject it in part, or it may reject the statement as a whole.

The jury, and the jury ALONE, will be the judge of the facts.

The law—the impersonal law—that the jury will be required to apply to those facts it will get from the court.

It looks then, as if the Phagan case, getting down to brass tacks, will revolve mainly about these persons: Leo Frank, the defendant; Solicitor Dorsey and Attorney Frank Hooper, representing the state; Luther S. Rosser and Hubert Arnold, representing the defendant; the judge, the jury and a dozen or so competent and material witnesses.

Order at Last Comes.

So, at last, has order been brought out of chaos, after weeks and weeks of hysteria, and commotion, passion and prejudice, facts and near-facts, truth and lies, intelligence and intolerance—all jumbled into about the worst mass I ever undertook, in my way, to analyze and unravel, in making the truth.

Leo Frank will receive a fair trial, and the written and reformulated verdict, whatever it may be, will be accepted generally as the truth.

And the jury, whatever it may be, will be judged by the public.

The Phagan case is a landmark in the history of the South, and it is a landmark in the history of the United States.

It is a landmark in the history of the South, and it is a landmark in the history of the United States.

It is a landmark in the history of the South, and it is a landmark in the history of the United States.

convicted we have a strong case against the accused.

Now, I do not think a matter thing has been said in all the mass of things that have been said in the Phagan case than the foregoing.

If any person who does not know Frank Hooper has any doubts as to his complete integrity and high ideals, the statement credited to him herein of nearly, where, would have eliminated many of the ugly features.

Happy, however, the character and the human photographs have been given, effective, because in their wild riot of talk, and if the Society for the Suppression of the Necessary Noise has rounded them up for good and all, no law, it and praise forevermore.

And THE LAW OF THE LAND have taken the Phagan case in hand, and through these agencies will the truth of the murder of Mary Phagan be set up eventually.

I have sought, in these articles, neither to prosecute nor to defend Frank. I have sought, in such manner as I might, to help find the murderer of Mary Phagan. I want to see him found and convicted.

I like Hooper, have desired, above all things, to see JUSTICE AND THE LAW VINDICATED, and I intend and agree with Hooper's expressed desire that both may be done.

Frank will continue to be convicted if the state fails to convict Frank. The state will turn its eyes elsewhere.

Could any man ask a fairer or squarer promise from Hooper than that?

Arnold says he never entered the case until he had convinced himself of Frank's innocence, and I quite believe he speaks the truth, do not think there is the shadow of a doubt in his mind. Frank is a lawyer of constant surprise. He can not without him not claim state his infinite variety. Frank's case will be presented to the jury as few men could present it, when Arnold undertakes the work.

In the first place, Atlanta and Georgia, and incidentally the entire South will have learned a good lesson in law and order, justice and fair play, and to that extent may be the better prepared for the next case of the kind that comes to their attention.

In the second place, there will be in the future no such wretched hangings and frenzied appeals in and from police headquarters, as for a time marked the Phagan case unique among its kind.

It looks now as if the decks have been pretty well cleared for action and that Leo Frank's trial may be expected to proceed in dignity and order, and that in its final analysis the truth of Mary Phagan's murder may be established, at least to the extent of Frank's guilt or suspected participation therein.

Frank should be convicted, that would mean the subsequent indictment and conviction of the negro Conley, as an accessory after the fact.

Conley indictment may follow, if Frank should be found not guilty, that would mean the indictment of Conley, as principal in the murder, in all human probability.

It is evidently in the purpose of the State to hold Conley free of all blame, pending the disposition of charges against Frank. His status as a material witness depends upon this course.

There may be a chance, however, that a Grand Jury may take up the case of this sort of its own motion, and to that extent there remains the possibility of prior indictment hanging over Conley.

It seems more likely, however, that the case will go to the grand jury, and that the grand jury will shape up now.

It does not seem to me that the case really has any further sensational interest, particularly as the grand jury has already indicated its opinion as to the guilt of the accused.

There may be, on both sides, some corroborated evidence of evidence, but in the main I think the public is in possession of all the material.

"That decision in the Mayor's office marks a new era in Atlanta," he said. "We shall begin a general clean-up of the day the crematory is completed."

"I understand that that will not be longer than ten days. I will burn Atlanta pure."

"Don't throw things into streets and alleys."

"Help us put an end to the flies and mosquitoes. You know trash breeds them."

"The Chief said the new crematory would increase greatly the efficiency of his department and that it would shorten hauls and allow many wagons to make more frequent visits."

BRILLIANT BATTLE SURE FRANK TRIAL IN GLASH OF HOOPER AND ARNOLD

Order Has at Last Been Rested and Indications Are That Struggle of Attorneys Will Be Waged in the Most Ethical Manner.

By AN OLD POLICE REPORTER.

As desirable as the Phagan case is, in all its minutely detailed, it already is evident enough that there will come of it eventually much that the community may be thankful for.

Two-Thirds Vote Needed.

Amendment proposing an amendment to the Federal constitution under which women would be given the vote is being considered by the Senate, so far as the upper branch of Congress is concerned.

The chief handicap preventing woman suffrage lies in the opposition of Southern Congressmen. The vote for the woman's movement have made headway in the South. A bit more in the protection of Alabama, where Representative Hobson is seeking the representation, as against Mr. Johnson, on a platform favoring woman suffrage and temperance. Senator Johnson says he will achieve re-election without difficulty.

If Frank should be convicted, it would mean the subsequent indictment and conviction of the negro conspirator, as an accessory after the fact. Delay in judgment may also mean that Frank should be indicted on a charge of conspiracy, which would mean the indictment of all human beings.

It is to be hoped that the trial will be a model of the kind of trial that should be held in every case of this kind, and that it will be a lesson to all who witness it.

The public must remember, however, that not all the things it has heard in the newspapers and on the half-truths, ever will go before the jury trying Leo Frank as competent evidence.

And it is upon the COMPETENT evidence alone that the jury will permit Leo Frank to be judged.

The inevitable result of the trial of Frank has already in the public mind set up a standard for the trial of any man accused of a crime against his fellow man.

BRILLIANT BATTLE SURE FRANK TRIAL IN CLASH OF HOOPER AND ARNOLD

Order Has at Last Been Rested and Indications Are That Struggle of Attorneys Will Be Waged in the Most Ethical Manner.

By AN OLD POLICE REPORTER.

As deplorable as the Phagan case, in all its melancholy details, it already is a "closed" case. It has been heard of it so frequently that the community may be thankful for it.

In the first place, Atlanta and Georgia, and incidentally the entire South, will have learned a good lesson in law and order, justice and fair play, and to that extent may be the better prepared for the next case of the kind that comes to their attention.

In the second place, there will be in the future no such wretched hanging and frenzied appeal in and from the headquarters, as for a time marked the Phagan case, unless among its kind.

It looks now as if the decks have been pretty well cleared for action and that Leo Frank's trial may be expected to proceed in dignity and order, and that in its final analysis the truth of Mary Phagan's murder may be established, at least to the satisfaction of Frank's real or suspected participation therein.

If Frank should be convicted, that would mean the subsequent indictment and conviction of the negro Ooley, as an accessory after the fact.

Ooley indicated, may possibly be established, at least to the satisfaction of Frank's real or suspected participation therein.

It is not to be denied that the trial of Leo Frank will be a brilliant battle, sure to be waged in the most ethical manner.

The public must remember, however, that not all the things it has read in the newspapers, not yet one-half the things, were told to the jury trying Leo Frank as competent evidence.

And it is upon the COMPETENT evidence alone that the court will permit Leo Frank to be judged.

For instance, nothing that Mrs. Frank has said in the public mind will go before the jury. A wife is kept in law from talking either for or against her husband.

Foamy Women Rejected.
The foamy woman always has been rejected as a possible witness against Frank. Her testimony is too prejudicial to the State to be admitted.

How much of the evidence the jury will hear is still a possibility. It will be up to the court to permit testimony to be given, and to decide to disregard the same, or to admit it in whole or in part, or to admit it in whole or in part.

The Phagan case is a closed case. It has been heard of it so frequently that the community may be thankful for it.

BRILLIANT BATTLE SURE IN FRANK TRIAL IN CLASH OF HOOPER AND ARNOLD

Order Has at Last Been Rested and Indications Are That Struggle of Attorneys Will Be Waged in the Most Ethical Manner.

By AN OLD POLICE REPORTER.

As deplorable as the Phagan case in all its meteoric details, it already is evident enough that yet one more trial of this kind will come to the community as a result of the trial of Frank in Atlanta and Georgia, and incidentally the entire South will have learned a good lesson in law and order, justice and fair play; and to that extent may be the better prepared for the next case of the kind that comes to their attention.

In the second place, there will be in the future no such wretched bungling and frenzied appeal in and from police headquarters, as for a time marked the Phagan case, until it was solved.

It looks now as if the decks have been neatly set, cleared for action and that Leo Frank's trial may be expected to proceed in dignity and order, and that in its final analysis the truth of Phagan's murder may be established, at least to the extent of Phagan's real or suspected participation therein.

If Frank should be convicted, that would mean the subsequent judgment and conviction of the negro Dyer, as an accessory after the fact.

If Frank should be found not guilty, that would mean the indictment of Dyer, as principal in the murder of Phagan, and the conviction of the State to hold Dyer for trial, pending the disposition of the appeal against Frank, if the latter should be convicted.

It is difficult to see how it can be otherwise, and it is believed that the trial of Frank will be a landmark in the history of the South.

It seems now as if the trial will be a model of the kind of trial that the South needs, and that it will be a landmark in the history of the South.

There may be in both the trial and the appeal, some things which will be of interest to the community, and which will be of interest to the South.

It is believed that the trial will be a landmark in the history of the South, and that it will be a model of the kind of trial that the South needs.

ALL WOMEN TO VOTE IN TIME IS SENATE'S IDEA

Even the Most Conservative Members Believe the Fair Sex Will Cast Ballot the World Over.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—That women in all civilized countries will be permitted to vote is regarded as inevitable by the most conservative members of the Senate, it is said.

It is being claimed that steady progress is being made and that Great Britain, the United States and other civilized nations will eventually recognize that further delay is useless.

Two-Thirds Vote Needed.—The resolution proposing an amendment to the Federal constitution under which women would be given the ballot, now awaiting consideration by the Senate, is expected to be passed at the next session. A two-thirds vote would be necessary for its adoption.

It would require the approval of sixty-four Senators to make women enfranchise operative for the States, so far as the upper branch of Congress is concerned.

The chief handicap preventing women's suffrage lies in the opposition of Southern States. The issue has been made headway in the South. A bitter struggle is in progress in Alabama, where Representative Hobson is availing the Senate, as against Mr. Johnston, on a platform favorable to women's suffrage.

Senator Johnston says he will achieve re-election without difficulty.

Have Twenty-Four Votes.—It is figured that these Senators will certainly support the Chamberlain resolution providing for a constitutional amendment permitting women to vote; Ashurst and Smith, of Colorado; and Braden, of Missouri; and of Montana, Gallagher and Holtz, of New Hampshire; Chamberlain and Lane, of Oregon; and of Utah, Jones; and of Wyoming, Clark and Warren; of Wisconsin, Gore; and of Louisiana, Thorton and Thorton.

The total is twenty-four of the sixty-four votes required in the Senate. In view of recent action in the House, it is believed that the Chamberlain resolution will pass by a margin of two or three additional votes.

Some names are suggested.

$2,000,000 TAX GAIN EXPECTED IN CHATHAM

SAVANNAH, June 28.—That the total tax returns of Chatham County will show an increase for 1913 of about $2,000,000 is the opinion of Tax Assessor Marcus B. Baker. This will make the total returns for the year over $6,000,000—a new record for Chatham County.

That this increase will have no effect on the tax rate, says Judge Oliver T. Bacon, chairman of the board of county commissioners. The net income from the tax returns of 1912 was $1,000,000.
