JOE BROWN'S MESSAGE IS DENOUNCED BY UNIONS

Labor Leaders Declare Former Governor is Endeavoring to Arroy Country Against City to Further His Political Ambitions.

Address on Supremacy of Law in Connection With Augusta Strike is Called a Studied Effort to Discredit Workingmen's Cause.

The Georgia Federation of Labor is out in a statement "to the Public" in which it bitterly condemns former Governor Joseph M. Brown for a speech he delivered last year and for his recent message to the General Assembly. Both utterances of the Governor had blamed striking employees of the Georgia Railroad Company and the Augusta street car system for acts of disorder and the first utterance, the August speech of October 19, 1912, vilified the Governor's intention to deal summarily, through an exercise of military power, with offending strikers of the future.

Potomac Water for Perspiring Senators

Lawmakers Thought They Were Drinking Mineral Spring Product Until Page Told Secret.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The poor, perspiring Senators have been deceived by the pages. Some time ago the economy campaign eliminated mineral waters from the summer comforts of the Senators. Despite this, the mineral waters seemed still to be in the water bottles and the Senators drank deep and long.

A well-known Senator stepped up and drank three glasses to-day. "There never was a water as good as this," he boasted, "and I have tried them all."

A page sitting by "fell over" in a spasm of mirth. "It is Potomac water in the old bottles," he laughed. He knew, for he had seen it drawn from the spring.

The Duke left no male heir, the title descending to the elder daughter, the Princess Alice. The Princess Alice, in 1912, visited the Governor's intention to deal summarily, through an exercise of military power, with offending strikers of the future.

AFFIDAVITS TO BACK MINCEY STORY FOUND

Attorney Leavitt Declares Tale That Conley Admitted Killing Girl Will Stand Test.

NEW LEV STILL HELD IN JAIL

Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey Promises to Present a Bill Against Him as Suspect.

That several negro women overheard Jim Conley when he ran the insurance agency, Mincey, away with the alleged statement that he had killed a girl and didn't want to kill anyone else, and that the affidavits from the women are in the hands of the attorney for the defense, was stated Saturday by Attorney J. H. Leavitt, who aided in obtaining the sensational affidavit from Mincey.

"I am attorney for the American Insurance Company and know its manager, J. R. Dutton, very well," said Leavitt. "It is doubly difficult to discredit the affidavit very likely because Mincey left his employer to get a better position and he had to do some of the outside work. Mincey is a college graduate and is well known in Atlanta. It will be utterly impossible to shake his evidence."

"I am not employed to represent Frank and aided in getting this affidavit purely because I happened to stumble on to the information. Before I submitted it to Mr. Rogers, Frank's attorney, I read every day investigating the character of the man, questioning the women in the neighborhood and generally verifying the facts. When I turned it over to him I was convinced of its absolute truth and that it would stand the acid test."

Habeas Corpus Fight Falls. Habeas corpus proceedings filed in the court of Judge Ellis Saturday morning. By agreement, Bernard L. Chappell, representing Leavitt, withdrew his application for a habeas corpus; Solicitor Dorsey promised to present a bill against Leavitt as a suspect in the Conley case, with the expectation that a "no bill" would be returned. This appeared satisfactory to the attorneys for Leavitt, as well as to the State.

Luther Z. Rosser, Robert R. Arnold and Herbert J. Hays, counsel for Frank, were in court to fight against the appearance of Frank as a witness. William M. Hays represented Conley, one of the witnesses subpoenaed.

Jim Conley underwent a reckless third degree late Friday afternoon at the hands of Solicitor General Hugh H. Dorsey and Attorney Frank A. Hooper in an effort to verify or discredit the W. H. Mincey affidavit, in which the negro was charged with confessing to the murder of a girl after the afternoon that Mary Phagan met her death.

The grilling of nearly four hours followed The Georgian's publication of the details of Mincey's accusations and was undertaken with the utmost secrecy, an attempt being made to avoid knowledge of the "sneaking" becoming public by taking Conley, the "sommelier" room on the second floor of the police station by a circuitous route.

The Queen immediately wrote to Headmaster Beavers to obtain all the letters from Behrens, send them to her and refund the $50, which was done to-day.

When President Taft arrived at the White House he demanded, "I shall wear a shower bath, but a tub big enough for his huge proportions. He got it. There is wonder here if that tub is in the White House, for, if it is, it must be too large for the new President."

PRESIDENT IS LINKED WITH GOMPERS IN LABOR LOBBY

Mullhall Writes to the National Association of Manufacturers of Agreement to Send Hughes to the Senate to Combat Capital.

Lobbyist Boasts in Correspondence of Success in Having Map Elected to Congress Favorable to His Organization's Interests.

Secretary of Labor is Assailed as Practicing Nepotism in Appointing Office Force for Committee, Bird is Summoned by Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and J. P. Bird, general manager of the National Association of Manufacturers, will be called before the Senate lobby committee Monday to explain their activities in the interests of labor and capital.

Mr. Gompers' testimony will be heard with great interest in view of new and amazing revelations made by Colonel Mitchell, for ten years publicity and field agent for the manufacturers. These revelations The American heretofore has printed for what ever they may be worth.

Here is Mullhall's letter to Ferdinand: "I am writing you to inform you that Mr. John J. Gardner has been elected to the Senate for the next term. I know you will be pleased to learn that Mr. Gardner has been elected a complete victory over two very strong opponents in the Second Congressional District of this city, and has won the nomination again with a majority of about 3,000 votes, which the official count will give him."

Since you wrote me I have also visited Mr. George W. Patullo's district, and at his request will continue to do some work for him until the close of the campaign. This is the third victory that you have participated in since last April. Mr. James McDermott was re-nominated in the Fourth District, and he claims, largely by my help.

The principal reason for my writing this letter to you is to call your attention to the fact that I feel that every manufacturer in this country should unite and help to defeat William Hughes, late of the Sixth New Jersey District. I know it is not necessary for me to say a word to you concerning Hughes' record, for I feel that every manufacturer throughout the country who is interested in honest legislation and against class legislation know his record in detail.

I have got positive information that when Mr. Samuel Gompers and Mr. Frank Morrison and other members of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor called on Governor Wilson at his home in Sagitt around the first day of July that they wanted a grant from Governor Wilson to support Hughes for the United States Senate. In this grant that Governor Wilson has granted out his agreement to the labor party, and that is why Hughes is the nominee of the Democratic party at the present time.

I feel positive and sure that if the manufacturers that belong to your organization and other organizations in favor of a square deal will do their duty in this coming election, Gardner will be returned to Congress by a greater majority than he ever got before, and that Hughes will be overwhelmingly defeated. I feel that it is the duty of all the leaders of your organization to see that this comes about.

The Georgia Federation of Labor is in a state of indignation over the fact that its bitterest and fiercest foe, Governor Joseph M. Brown, for a speech he delivered last year and for his recent message to the General Assembly.

Question Legality of Act. The statement was prepared by an empowered committee, consisting of Jerome Jones, editor of The Journal of Labor, W. C. T. Tamm, third vice president of the State Federation, and Louis P. Manquard, labor organizer for Atlanta.

The speech delivered by the then Governor, Joseph M. Brown, on October 29, 1912, at a banquet given by the military and naval forces in the city of Augusta, Ga., in connection with the strike at Augusta, and particularly directed against organized labor.

In his message to the General Assembly last week the Governor rebuked his district against organized labor.

Charge Political Purpose. The Governor took as his text the then recent strike upon the Georgia Railroad. The strike had been violently settled by arbitration, and it seems the Governor wanted to notify all and singular the union railway employees of Georgia that he stood for the strike strikers.

Potomac Water for Perspiring Senators

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The poor perspiring Senators have been deceived by the press.

Some time ago the economy campaign eliminated mineral waters from the summer comforts of the Senators.

Despite this, the mineral waters seemed still to be in the water bottles and the Senators drank deep and long.

Well-known Senator stepped up and drank three glasses to-day.

"There never was a water as good as this," he boasted, "and I have tried them all."

A page sitting by fell over in a fit of mirth.

"It is Potomac water in the old bottle," he laughed. He knew, for he had seen it drawn from the faucet.

AFFIDAVITS TO BACK MINCEY STORY FOUND

Attorney Leavitt Declares That Conley Admitted Killing Girl Will Stand Test.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The American. LONDON, July 12.—The American.

Several negro women overheard Jim Conley when he had the insurance agent, Mincey, away with the alleged statement that he had just killed a girl and didn't want to be arrested.

Attorney Leavitt defended the character of the man who made the affidavit and denied emphatically that Mincey even asked about the money he would receive as a witness, except whether his railroad fare would be paid if he were out of the city.

Explains Duke's Doubts. "I know the attorney for the American Insurance Company and know its manager, J. S. Duke, very well," said Leavitt.

"I am not employed to represent Frank and aided in getting this affidavit purely because I happened to stumble on to the information. Before I submitted it to Mr. Rosser, Frank's attorney, I spent several days investigating the character of the man, questioning the women in the neighborhood and generally verifying the facts.

When I turned it over to him I was convinced of its absolute truth and that it would stand the test of a court.

Habes Corpus Fight Fails. Habeas corpus proceedings to release New Lee collapsed in the court of Judge Ellis Saturday morning.

By agreement, Bernard L. Chapell, representing Lee, withdrew his application for habeas corpus. Solicitor Dorsey promised to present a bill against Lee as a suspect in the Phagan murder case.

Luther Z. Rosser, Reuben R. Arnold and Herbert J. Haas, of counsel for Frank, were in court to fight against the appearance of Conley as a witness. William M. Smith represented Conley, one of the witnesses subpoenaed.

Conley Takes Third Degree. Jim Conley underwent a racking third degree late Friday afternoon at the hands of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey and Attorney Frank A. Hooper in an effort to verify or discredit the W. H. Mincey affidavit, in which the negro was charged with confessing to the murder of a girl on her death that Mary Phagan met her.

The grilling of nearly four hours followed the Georgian's publication of the details of Mincey's accusations and was undertaken with the utmost secrecy, an attempt being made to avoid knowledge of the "avealing" becoming public by taking Conley to the Cincinnati station on the second floor of the police station by a circuitous route.

It is suggested that the vessel used, if the idea is carried out, be a full-sized model of Columbus' caravel, in which he sailed on his voyage of discovery.

Special Cable to The American. LONDON, July 12.—Prince Henry, the third son of King George, who is at preparatory school at Broadstairs, is allowed $150 per week pocket money.

Recently he asked his parents to double the allowance, which was peremptorily refused by his mother.

The Queen immediately wrote to Headmaster Saunders to obtain the letters from Behrens, and send them to her and refund the $50, which was done to-day.

Prince Henry was warned if he raised money this way again he will be tutored at home instead of being sent to Eton.

PRESIDENT IS LINKED WITH GOMPERS IN LABOR LOBBY

Mullholland Writes to the National Association of Manufacturers of Agreement to Send Hughes to the Senate to Combat Capital.

Lobbyist Boasts in Correspondence of Success in Having Men Elected to Congress Favorable to His Organization's Interests.

Secretary of Labor Is Assailed by Practicing Nativism in Appointing Office Force for Committee, Bird Is Summoned by Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Samuel J. Mulholland, general manager of the National Association of Manufacturers, will be called before the Senate lobby committee Monday to explain their activities in the interests of labor and capitalism.

Mr. Gompers' testimony will be heard with great interest in view of how and amazing revelations made by Colonel Mulholland for ten years publicity and field agent for the manufacturers. These revelations show the interest in the present for what ever they may be worth.

Here is Mulholland's letter to Bird: Atlanta City, N. J. Mr. Philip Bird, General Manager National Association of Manufacturers, No. 89 Church Street, New York City.

Dear Sir: I received your letter some time ago, but did not answer on account of being preoccupied with work for the past eight or ten days. I know you will be pleased to learn that Mr. John J. Hughes has won a complete victory over two very strong opponents in the Second Congressional District of this city, and was the continuation again with a majority of about 1,000 votes, which the official count will give him.

Since you wrote me I have also visited Mr. George W. Fitch's district, and as his refusal has not continued to do some work for him until the close of the campaign. This is the third victory that I have participated in since last April.

Mr. James McDermott was re-elected in the Fourth Illinois District and, he claims, largely by my help.

Wilson's Pleads Recusal. The principal reason for my writing this letter to you is to call your attention to the fact that I feel that every manufacturer in this country should unite and help to defeat William Hughes, late of the Sixth New Jersey District. I know it is not necessary for me to say a word to you concerning Hughes' record, for I feel that every manufacturer throughout the country who is interested in honest legislation and against class legislation knows what his record is.

I have got positive information that when Mr. Samuel Gompers and Mr. Frank Morrison and other members of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor called on Governor Wilson at his home in Sagitt around the first day of last July that they exacted a promise from Governor Wilson to support Hughes for the United States Senatorship in this State, and that Governor Wilson has carried out his agreement to the latter, and that is why Hughes is the nominee of the Democratic party at the present time.

I feel positive and sure that if the manufacturers that belong to your organization and other organizations in favor of a square deal will get their duty in this coming election, Governor Hughes will be returned to office by a greater majority than he ever got before, and that Hughes will be overabundantly satisfied.

I feel that it is the duty of all the leaders of your organization to see that this treacherous demagogue is not elected.

SEEK NEGRO WHO SAYS HE WAS EYE-WITNESS TO PHAGAN MURDER

Fugitive, Reported to Have Been Traced to Birmingham, Declares That He Witnessed the Attack on the Girl Slain in the Pencil Plant.

LAYS CRIME TO BLACK WITH WHOM HE HAD GAMBLED

Loser at Dice, He Declares, Planned to Rob Victim as She Came From Getting Pay—Tried to Prevent the Crime and, Failing, Fleed.

Report that a negro who has declared that he witnessed the attack by another negro upon Mary Phagan, which resulted in her death in the National Pencil Factory on the afternoon of April 26, has been apprehended in Birmingham, became known Saturday night.

If this information is substantiated, its substance is of such startling character as to revolutionize the present status of the Phagan case, casting down practically every bulwark which has been erected in the prosecution of Leo M. Frank for the murder.

In its present form, however, the Sunday American does not vouch for the correctness of the report. Only the fact that it comes from a source which is so near the defense of the pencil factory head as to make it authoritative and the admission by those connected with the actual legal defense of Frank, prompts this newspaper to present the sensational story, asking that it be taken for what, on its face, it is shown to be worth.

It is known that a search has been made for the mysterious negro ever since a message came from St. Louis early in May, telling of his boast first made in that city.

The negro's name is said to be Will Green, and he is described as light yellow, about 39 years of age and about 5 feet 9 inches tall.

"I was in Atlanta for a few days. I was shooting craps on the first floor with this negro that Saturday. This fellow was half drunk and was looking for me. He got mad and cursed his luck."

"Before long this girl went upstairs. This negro said he was going to take her money away from her when she came down. I thought he was kidding at first, but when she came down he started for her. I yelled at him not to do it, but he kept right on. Then I skipped out of there. I didn't want to get mixed up in any trouble. I stayed around town until the next Monday, and then I read all about how a little girl had been killed in the National Pencil Factory, and I knew that she was the one I had seen coming downstairs at the factory."

"I got out of town right away and went back to St. Louis. They were surprised to see me back there, and I told a few of them how I happened to come back. That's how they found out that I had seen what I did."

Frank Morrow, of St. Louis, formerly connected with the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, is reported to have been the first one to take notice of the negro Green. Morrow was seriously injured a few years ago, and Green is understood to have assisted in caring for him for several months. In this way Morrow came to know the negro well.

Morrow, on hearing the negro's astounding tale, wired immediately to Atlanta. Little attention was paid his message at first, as it came along with many others which palpably were from persons seeking the rewards or who were offering evidence of no value. He repeated his story and this led to an investigation of Morrow himself. His former connections were ascertained and it was found that he had a reputation for reliability.
