BROYLES CHARGES FALSHOOD TO MAYOR

REVERSAL OF VERDICTS DENIED

Apologizes Also to Porcino Family for Likening Woodward's Legal Knowledge to Theirs.

Recorder Nath Broyles penned a polite note of apology to the whole hog family Friday.

With the same hand he picked up the cudgels with which again to belabor his honor, Mayor Woodward.

The Mayor, again the Recorder, was the author of a ridiculous and absurd falsehood and it was a disgraceful libel upon Mr. Hog to have to submit to a comparison with Atlanta's Mayor.

As for the Mayor, he declared he was tired of wanting evidence on the Recorder and that he would have nothing more to say in his quarrel.

Apologizes to Porcino Family.

CRAWFORD'S POLICE GOALS GOING ON CONLEY

Export Declares Capitalist Was Not in His Right Mind When He Married.

That Joshua B. Crawford was insane at the time he married Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford had been entirely irresponsible for several months prior to that time, was the testimony of Dr. R. K. Kimes, expert on insanity and abdominal surgery, introduced by Attorney Joe S. James Friday morning in his effort to have the marriage annulled and the $250,000 estate revert to the heirs-at-law.

Dr. Kimes rendered his opinion in reply to a long hypothetical question and was excused without cross-examination.

During the taking of testimony another class in the courtroom was narrowly averted. George W. Bolden, a character witness for Mrs. Crawford, threatened to threaten Attorney James unless he apologized for what the witness considered an insulting question. Colonel James declined to apologize and order was only restored when Colonel Anderson ordered the witness from the stand, and he was escorted from the courtroom by the lawyers.

How do you who apologize immediately for asking such a question? Dr. Kimes replied that he did not intend to take anything that I say.

You will take it back or I will take it, I have to beat you to it.

You are at liberty to try that at any time you see fit.

Colonel Anderson, who had tugged several times for order, stepped between the attorney and the witness just as the latter got from his seat and stepped to the witness stand.

The Crawford brothers-at-law got to their feet and rushed to aid their attorney. Reuben Arnold stepped between them and with Colonel Anderson helped escort the witness from the room.

Anxious to Tell All.

Mrs. Crawford was anxious to go on the stand Friday and see the evidence from her side of the case go into the minutes of the hearing.

DESERTS FIANCE TO ELOPE WITH HIS RIVAL

Leaving in her wake the broiled heart of a young man, an employee of a downtown shoe store, to whom she was engaged to be married Sunday night, pretty Miss Dollie Lumpkin, No. 454 Houston street, went to Atlanta, Thursday night and became the bride of J. D. Hunter, employed in a Whitehall street shop. It is said by friends of the bridegroom that the young woman's original fiance was on route to the Ordinary's office to obtain a marriage license late yesterday afternoon when he heard of theelopement of the bride-to-be.

PINKERTONS TRACK MINCEY

Another Clash Interrupts Poison Case

POLICE HALT GRILLING OF CONLEY

Detective Bent on Questioning Negro Is Barred From Cell by Chief Lanford.

With Pinkerton detectives taking the trail in search of W. H. Mincey, whose startling accusations against Jim Conley stirred the police department and won the negro another "awarding" from Solicitor Dorsey, the Mincey affidavit Friday became the storm center about which the prosecution and defense in the Frank case waged their battle.

Despite the degree of indifference with which the detectives and prosecuting officials affected to look upon the remarkable statements of Mincey, it became known Friday that great effort was being bent toward locating him and turning the light on his past history.

It is understood that the Pinkertons have obtained information of Mincey's whereabouts as it has been known since The Georgian published its exclusive story of the affidavit and later Mincey's detailed account of the significant happenings on the day of the murder that he was teaching school in North Georgia.

Although Solicitor Dorsey professes to be not greatly concerned over the effect that the Mincey affidavit may have in his case against Leo M. Frank, it is reported that his office is gathering character witnesses for an attack on Mincey's credibility.

Developments since the publication of the affidavit indicate that the prosecution feels it must absolutely discredit Mincey and his story if there is to be any hope of obtaining a conviction against Frank.

Harry Scott, Pinkerton detective, was denied permission to talk with Jim Conley Friday morning when he went to the police station to see if he could bring any additional admissions from the negro. From the fact that Scott was working in entire harmony with the city detective department up to this time, this incident led to the rumor that Scott had changed his theory of the crime and was inclined to place the responsibility upon Conley.

Scott refused to say to what extent his theories had been altered. If all Chief of Detectives Lanford explained that he had full confidence in Scott, and that the Pinkerton was in the position where he had to report all of his findings to the defense.

London Laughs at Secretary Bryan's Plea of Poverty

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LONDON, July 18.—The Standard prints an editorial on "Politicians and Their Pay" this morning, in which it refers to the statement of William Jennings Bryan, the American Secretary of State, that he can not live on his salary of $13,000 a year. The Standard says: "The poor man's champion has discovered that he can not subsist satisfactorily on $13,000 a year. A good many people in a good many countries manage to get on comfortably on less than that amount, but since Mr. Bryan has looked upon socialism as a profession he has done well on the lecture platform.

60 Insurance Men III After Banquet

MILWAUKEE, July 18.—Sixty men, all prominent in the insurance business, from all parts of the country, were ill to-day following a banquet given during an insurance convention here.

Three varieties of cold fish—pike, salmon and white—were served at the banquet, and it was believed that one of these caused ptomaine poisoning.

CRAWFORD'S SANITY NOW ATTACKED

Expert Declares Capitalist Was Not in His Right Mind When He Married.

That Joshua B. Crawford was insane at the time he married Mrs. Mary Betty Crawford and had been entirely irresponsible for several years prior to that time, was the testimony of Dr. R. R. Kimes, expert on insanity, who testified in the court case Monday. Dr. Kimes rendered his opinion in reply to a long hypothetical question and was excused without cross-examination.

During the taking of testimony another claim in the courtroom was abruptly asserted. George W. Bolden, a prominent witness for Mrs. Crawford, testified that Attorney James Arnold had introduced the testimony of Colonel Anderson ordered the witness from the stand, and he was escorted from the courtroom by the lawyers.

"How do you know that Mrs. Crawford is a lady?" inquired Attorney James.

"I demand that you apologize immediately for such a question," exclaimed Bolden.

"I will not apologize. I do not intend to take back anything that I say."

"You will take it back or I will make you, if I have to best you to do so."

"You are at liberty to try that at any time you see fit."

The Crawford heirs-at-law got to their feet and wanted to sidestep the testimony. James Arnold stepped between them and with Colonel Anderson helped escort the witness from the room.

Attorney James said Friday morning that he had been entirely too busy to take any official action toward having Fred Lumpkin, the New York member of the original family, brought back to Atlanta.

Search Begun for Estranged Husband in Drugging Case

A squad of policemen arrived after three brothers had overpowered the maniac.

REVERSAL OF VERDICTS IS DENIED BY JUDGE

Apologizes Also to Porcine Family for Likening Woodward's Legal Knowledge to Theirs.

Recorder Nash Broyles penned a polite note of apology to the whole hog family Friday.

With the same hand he picked up the cudgels with which again to belabor his honor, Mayor Woodward.

"The Mayor, quote the recorder, was the author of a ridiculous and absurd falsehood and it was a regrettable libel upon Mr. Hog to have to submit to a comparison with Atlanta's Mayor."

As for the Mayor, he declared he was tired of wasting verbiage on the Recorder and that he would have nothing more to say in their quarrel. He intimated, however, that he had it in his mind to override the Recorder again by patronizing another printer.

Here are Recorder Broyles' comments on the Mayor's Apologies to Porcine Family.

"I care nothing for the Mayor's abuse. Condemnation from such a character should be considered praise."

"When he says that he Court of Appeals on May 22, 1911, reversed me in ten cases and sustained me in seven, he tells such a ridiculous and absurd falsehood that I now apologize to the hog to which I referred yesterday when I said the Mayor knew less about law than a hog does about political economy."

"The issue of the Court of Appeals passing one day upon seven cases appealed from the Recorder's Court of Appeals, and they will also show that that court has sustained me in ten cases where it has reversed me in one."

"But the Mayor is, as usual, trying to sidetrack the issue between us. That issue is not my ability as a lawyer or a judge. I am content to let my record speak for me, but the issue is that the Mayor is protecting and pardoning the habitual and confirmed criminals of our city, is obstructing and impeding justice in our courts and impeding the officers of the law in their attempt to check crime in our city."

"And this is the issue on which the people at the next election will call him to account."

Mayor Woodward retorted that he had concluded his comments on Recorder Broyles, but that he had practically had decided again to overrule the Recorder and issue another pardon.

LOBBY CHARGED WITH SWINGING SALOON VOTE

Manufacturers Lined Up Brewers for Watson in Indiana, According to Mulhall.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—How the National Association of Manufacturers lined up the brewers and saloon men of Indiana for the nomination and Representative James E. Watson in his campaign for Governor was told in a letter written by Colonel Mulhall to F. C. Schweetz, market secretary to President Van Cleave, and read before the (former) lobby investigating committee to-day. Watson, according to Mulhall's letter, was not so much afraid of the 20,000 votes the brewers could swing against him as he was of the 100,000 they would put into the last part of the campaign.

According to another letter, Mulhall, the field agent of the "invisible government," assured Uncle Joe Cannon that reports that the association was fighting him were false, and that the association was firmly supporting him.

Miss Name Brought In. Mulhall declared he helped Representative Henry C. Stearns, of Missouri, Richard Bartholdt, of Missouri, who were re-elected by narrow margins, and also asserted he thought the association deserved the credit for their victories.

Edward Hines, of Chicago, said to have headed the list of "last-minute" names in for notice in connection with a telegram to Mulhall, which he appealed for $1,000 to aid Representative Jenkins, of Missouri, and offered to support the spending of this sum.

There will come a time when the world will know that the Purza and the VanCleave's of to-day are like John the Baptist, who, speaking thoughtfully of events to come and condemning feasting, said: "I preach, clearing the way for righteousness and honesty."

In an effort to prevent an enormous waste of time, the committee assigned clerks to examine the 125,000 letters in the file the association turned over to the committee, to cull out those letters which have the greatest bearing on the issue. It is proposed to keep Mulhall on the stand until all of the material in the record has become a part of the record.

MINGEY TRAILED BY PINKERTONS

Prosecution Obtains Character Witnesses for Attack on Story of Negro's Confession.

Attorneys for the defense said in regard to the report that the case might again be postponed, that they knew of no reason why it could not go to trial July 23, the date set by Judge L. S. Roan. They said that their side of the case was complete and that they were prepared to present it to a jury at any time.

The Mincey murder, with a view of bringing an indictment, a number of the members are said to have declared themselves in favor of reopening the case because of the mass of evidence that has piled up against the negro since he confessed to being in the factory on the day of the crime.

The Solicitor, however, is unwillingly opposed to any movement looking toward the indictment of the negro.

Douglas Family Enjoys Outing in Pine Woods, With All Joys of Outdoor Life.

Miss Jean Douglas at the oars.

The summertime resorts at Mountain and seaside are claiming fewer Atlanta people this year than ever before. And the reason is Atlanta people have learned that the best and most pleasant summer resort in the white land is right here in the country surrounding the city.

In every direction here to be found summer camps where the business or professional man is enjoying all the pleasure and comforts of a summer resort, and at the same time is able to get into town every day to attend to business affairs.

One of the most attractive camps is that of Hamilton Douglas, president of the Atlanta School of Law and of the Atlanta Bar Association. It is located on the grounds of the Capital City Country Club, about one-third of a mile from the clubhouse, in a charming bit of pine woods. The camp is called "The Camp in the Woods" and the Douglas family, and many visiting friends, are spending the summer months just as cool and comfortable as if they were in the most perfectly appointed mountain resort hotel.

There are four tents: one for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, one for Miss Jean, Helen and Dorothy Douglas, and one for Miss Josephine Christopher and Miss Marjorie Shippen.

They can be right here to enjoy it with us and that makes it all the more enjoyable. I think everybody in Atlanta should camp out in the summer, and I know they would if they knew how grand it is."

CLASH INTERRUPTS POISON CASE Prosecution Seeking to Discredit Mincey

CRANFORD'S SAINT NOW ATTACKED

Expert Declares Capitalist Was Not in His Right Mind When He Married.

That Joshua B. Crawford was insane at the time he married Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford and had been irresponsible for several months prior to that time, was the testimony of Dr. R. B. Kimes, expert on insanity and abdominal surgery, introduced by Attorney Joe B. James Friday morning in his effort to have the marriage annulled and the $150,000 estate revert to the heirs-at-law.

Dr. Kimes rendered his opinion in reply to a long hypothetical question and was excused without cross-examination.

During the taking of testimony another clash in the courtroom was narrowly averted. George W. Bolden, a chamberlain for Mrs. Crawford, threatened to thrash Attorney James unless he apologized for what the witness considered an insulting question. Colonel James declined to apologize and order was only restored when Colonel Anderson ordered the witness from the stand and he was escorted from the courtroom by the lawyers.

"How do you know that Mrs. Crawford is a lady?" interrogated Attorney James.

"I would rather see the National Government raise the money by income taxes and spend it for such causes than to leave the people indebted to men for great charities," he declared.

The speaker also attacked the workmen's compensation act, now pending, declaring it to be a bill to provide the railroad corporations from their just liabilities to injured employees.

In advocating the state tax bill, Senator Smith declared it was a bill to take away from the people the right to own their own property.

LEGISLATURE HEARS HOKE SMITH

Senator Tells Georgia Assembly of the Work of Congress--Defends Tariff Cuts.

United States Senator Hoke Smith addressed the two bodies of the Georgia Legislature in joint session at noon Friday in the house.

Conspicuous throughout his address was the strong defense of the national administration, the keynote of which was prophetic of a period of unqualified prosperity throughout the Wilson regime.

Senator Smith declared that the Democrats to-day have enough votes in the Senate to pass the tariff bill. He said that notwithstanding the cuts made by the national house, the Senate had cut still deeper, and made additions to the free list.

"For the first time in fifty years," declared the Senator, "legislation intended to take the burden off the masses of the people has found no resistance in the Democratic Senate. It must be conceded by all that the Senate Democrats have made the tariff bill more Democratic than it was when it reached the Senate."

Mr. Smith attacked the present vogue of vast distribution of charity by the wealthy men of the nation.

"I would rather see the National Government raise the money by income taxes and spend it for such causes than to leave the people indebted to men for great charities," he declared.

The Senator advocated State rights in handling State problems. While his reference was to the California-Japanese situation, he made his application general by saying: "From the California troubles the whole country is realizing the difficulties with which we have had to contend, and they are helping us make converts to the doctrine that we must be left to handle our troubles ourselves."

Senator Smith urged for strong armament of the Shugwood bill for the defense of United States possessions.

"The startling fact is demonstrated that the eleven Southern States have a total population of 25,000,000. The speaker also attacked the workmen's compensation act, now pending, declaring it to be a bill to provide the railroad corporations from their just liabilities to injured employees.

ATLANTANS PREFER A CAMP NEAR THE CITY TO MORE FASHIONABLE SUMMER RESORTS

BUILDING TRADES PLAN FIGHT ON OPEN SHOP.

A fight against the open shop in the building trades section of the Federation of Labor that promises to be the hardest, in the history of organized labor in Atlanta, will be the outcome of the strike on the Healey Building unless a settlement is reached shortly.

International officers representing the fourteen organizations composing the Building Trades Council are either in Atlanta or on their way there. A meeting of the Building Trades Council will be held Friday night, when steps looking to a settlement of the differences or to arrange for a "fish fight" will be taken.

Clash--Low Wage Standard.
Officers of the building trades concerned in the controversy state that wages in Atlanta are 25 per cent lower than in other Southern cities, and they attribute this to the fact that in Atlanta alone the open shop is permitted.

The open shop as operated in Atlanta, according to the officers of the building trades, is that only that class of work requiring the greatest skill and which can only be done by members of the organization is done at the shop. The other work is done by non-union men at the same or a lower wage.

The summertime resorts at mountain and seaside are rigning fever in Atlanta people this year than ever before. And the reason is Atlanta people have learned that the best and most pleasant summer resort in the whole land is right here in the city, surrounding the city.

In every direction are to be found summer camps where the business of professional man is enjoying of the pleasure and comforts of a summer resort, and at the same time is able to get into town every day to attend to business affairs.

One of the most attractive camps is that of Hamilton Douglas, president of the Atlanta Bar Association. It is located on the grounds of the Capital City Country Club, about one-half of a mile from the city.

The Douglas family, consisting of Miss Jean Douglas, her husband, Mr. Hamilton Douglas, and their three children, are enjoying a most delightful outing in the pine woods near the city.

DETECTIVES TRAIL MAN ACCUISING CONLEY

Prosecution Obtains Character Witnesses for Attack on Story of Negro's Confession.

With Pinkerton detectives taking the trail in search of W. H. Mincey, whose startling accusations against Jim Conley stirred the police department and won the negro another "sweating" from Solicitor Dorsy, the Mincey affidavit Friday became the storm center about which the prosecution and defense in the Frank case waged their battle.

Despite the degree of indifference with which the detectives and prosecuting officials affected to look upon the remarkable statements of Mincey, it became known Friday that every effort was being bent toward locating him and turning the light on his past history.

Pinkertons Have Clue.
It is understood that the Pinkertons have obtained information of Mincey's whereabouts, as it has been known since The Georgian published its exclusive story of the affidavit and later Mincey's detailed account of the significant happenings on the day of the murder that he was teaching school in North Georgia.

Although Solicitor Dorsy professes to be not greatly concerned over the effect that the Mincey affidavit may have in his case against Leo M. Frank, it is reported that his office is endeavoring character witnesses for the Mincey story.

Developments since the publication of the affidavit indicate that the prosecution feels it must absolutely discredit Mincey and his story if there is to be any hope of obtaining a conviction against Frank.

Defense Ready for Trial.
Scott refused to say to what extent his theories had been altered, if at all. Chief of Detectives Lanford explained that he had full confidence in Scott, but that the Mincey affidavit was in the position where he had to report all of his findings to the defense and he did not wish Scott to see Conley in these circumstances.

Attorney for the defense said in regard to the report that the case might again be postponed that they knew of no reason why it could not go to trial July 23, the date set by Judge I. S. Roon. They said that their side of the case was complete and they were prepared to present it to the jury at anytime.

As bitter a fight as that brought on by the Mincey affidavit is being waged by the members of the Grand Jury and the Solicitor over the question of bringing an indictment. A number of the members are said to have declared themselves in favor of reopening the case because of the mass of evidence that had piled up against the negro since he confessed to being in the factory on the day of the crime.

The Solicitor, however, is unshakably opposed to any movement looking toward the indictment of the negro.

FROST CUT GEORGIA PEACH YIELD, BUT QUALITY AND PRICE ARE HIGH

Shipment of Crop in Full Swing.
Fruit Expert Says It Is
the Best Ever.

The movement of what is reported as the best crop of peaches ever grown in Georgia is now in full swing up and down Peachtree street and via railroad to the East.

H. B. Marks, secretary-manager of the Georgia Fruit Exchange, who claims to know all about peaches—
that is, the edible kind—declared

Miss

another peach.

Thursday that the crop, while a light one,
was bringing the highest prices
ever known in this country.

"Peaches are selling at from $2.20 to $2.50 a bushel," said Mr. Marks.
"More than 1,000 cars have already been shipped, most of them going to New York, being divided between New York, Philadelphia and Boston. Georgia Bella's and 'Libertal' form the bulk of the shipments.

"A sharp frost caused a short yield,
but the high prices which the peaches are bringing more than make up for this."

The "honey" girls are here in abundance, however, and even the hot weather is not driving all the Atlanta beauties to the cooler summer resorts.
Miss Dancey Minnow, one of the prettiest of the younger Atlanta girls, was accepted last night as she was beginning to eat one of the first of the North Georgia grown peaches to arrive in the city.

LEAVE TO WED DENIED COUPLE IN VICE NET

Despite the pleadings of his aged mother and of Billie Drummond, the girl in the case, who asked that she
be allowed to marry him, Joe North, caught by Chief Weaver, vice squad in a raid on the boarding house of Mrs. Lulu Hill at Fair and Peters streets, was held in the (Frank) Jury by Judge Broyles Thursday, in the sum of $500. The charges, which from the first story told by the Drummond woman, promised to develop into white slavery, was changed to disorderly conduct.

"The girl, who when first arrested looked so sorry for her fate, was rejoiced," Recorder Broyles, testified against North Thursday afternoon and before Judge Broyles. "She can't marry. The man said she got a divorce."
North's mother pleaded that her son be placed on probation, but Judge Broyles refused. The girl was sent to the Reformatory.

Fine Time Awaits Solons in Augusta

Georgia legislators will travel with light hearts to Augusta Saturday, where they will be entertained by the City Council in a manner befitting the occasion. The question of

PHYSICIAN'S TRIAL DAY OF HEIRS

Further Evidence of Crawford Poisoning Promised at Civil Hearing on Will.

Sensational new poison evidence was promised at the civil hearing of the Crawford will case Friday by Attorney C. B. James, who said he would introduce his star witness, a physician who was with Dr. H. F. Harris, of the State Board of Health, when the body of Joshua B. Crawford was examined and the contents of the stomach examined.

Other than to say that the testimony of the medical expert would be the last from his side in the hearing before an auditor in the fight for the $250,000 estate, and that he expected the evidence to show conclusively that large quantities of morphine had been found in the viscera of Crawford's body, Attorney James would make no announcement.

Widow's Story Delayed.
The placing of the doctor on the witness stand Friday will further delay Mrs. Mary Elsie Crawford, the accused widow, from making her statement. It was planned, by her attorney to have her testify when the hearing opened Friday morning, but the physician will more than likely be the first to cross-examine her by Attorney Heuber Arnold for several hours, and his evidence may not be concluded before 1 o'clock, the agreed time for adjournment. The hearing will adjourn Friday afternoon until Monday morning.

Mrs. Crawford was anxious to go on the stand Friday and see the case
from her side of the case so far into the minutes of the hearing.

"I want to tell everything I know about the affair when I go on the stand," she said. "The other side has had everything its way so far, because all of the witnesses were for the heirs-at-law. It will be altogether at a different story when Mr. Arnold and Mr. Smith introduce the witness we have. It will then be conclusively proved that there was nothing irregular anywhere except the groundless accusations that have been made against me."

Attorney James said Friday morning that he had been entirely too busy to take any official action toward having Fred Lump, the New York barber who is charged with being an accessory in the alleged poisoning,
brought back to Atlanta.

Certain of Getting Lump.
"I will then get him back here in plenty of time if he remains in America," said Attorney James. "He would be of no particular use in this civil hearing, and that was why I didn't take extra effort to get him back."
At the first opportunity he will ask the Governor, to give me regulation papers, and I will send a deputy to New York for him."

London Laughs at Secretary Bryan's
Plea of Poverty

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
LONDON, July 18.—The Standard prints an editorial on "Politicians and Their Pay" this morning, in which it refers to the statement of William Jennings Bryan, the American Secretary of State, that he can not live on his salary of $12,000 a year. The Standard says:

"The poor man's champion has discovered that he can not subsist satisfactorily on $12,000 a year. A good many people in a good many countries manage to be comfortable on less than that amount, but since Mr.
Bryan first took up socialism as a profession he has done well on the lecture platform.

"He has been making $15,000 every year by denouncing the idle rich. If the Union can not pay the same scale
he proposes to increase his emoluments by private exertions, so he will go on tour again."

Stanley's Son Dying, Tells His Life Secret

SAULT STE MARIE, July 18.—Jack Stanley, 19, son of the famous explorer, Sir Henry M. Stanley, died here today in a lodging house from tuberculosis.

A death hovered near the dying man, he whispered a secret which he had shared only with his wife, the former Mrs. Violet Lancaster, of Detroit, whom he married on the ship
of the Ocean Theater, Clarksville, W.
Va., two years ago.

"I am the son of Sir Henry M.
Stanley, the famous explorer," he said to the mother, who would be sent into subconscience.

"A Glorious Dream," Says Evelyn Thaw

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
LONDON, July 18.—"Yes, it is quite true. I am engaged to the Victoria," Evelyn Thaw told The Geor-
gian's correspondent.

"What about the rumored $4,000
a week salary?" she was asked.

"She shut her eyes," clasped her hands and said: "What a glorious dream! If it were only true!"

"What would my husband's creditors say?" "Poor, dear things! Don't rate their hopes that way!"

Science Seeks New Light on Numbers

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—"What is number?" the mathematicians of the University of Pennsylvania want to know.

"Where does number begin and end?"

In an effort to answer this all-important question the university will send an expedition to the headwaters of the Amazon to learn what the aborigines know of No. 1. This is for a starter.

60 Insurance Men Ill After Banquet

MILWAUKEE, July 18.—Sixty men
all prominent in the insurance business, from all parts of the country,
were ill to-day following a banquet
given during an insurance convention here.

Three varieties of cold fish—pike, salmon and white—were served at the banquet, and it was believed that one of these caused poisonous poisoning.

Widow Marries Husband's Nephew

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
PARIS, July 18.—Mrs. Arabelle B.
Huntington, widow of the late Col. F.
Huntington, a multi-millionaire
American railroad builder, was married in the American Church in Henry R. Huntington, a railroad man, of New York and Los Angeles, Pa.

The bridegroom is a nephew of his husband's.

WOMEN RIDE FIGKLE WIFE ON A RAIL

Victim Then Is DuKked in Mud Puddle and Forced to Flea Illinois Village.

PELO, Ill., July 18.—Suspicious that Mrs. Minnie Richardson, wife of the crippled keeper of a general store here, was more than friendly with her brother-in-law, Will Dunhill, the village stonemason, a band of women of the village kidnaped Mrs. Richardson from her home, rode her on a rail through the town and dumped her in a mud puddle.

After the mud bath they gave her 14 hours to leave the village. Richardson mortgaged his store for $1,500
and gave her money to pay her railroad fares.

When the men of the town went to Dunhill's home, he was not there and his wife said he had left the town. She had mortgaged her home to get money for him.

Mrs. Peter Stansfield, wife of the blacksmith, who was captain of the women "vigilantes," said that the conduct of Mrs. Richardson and Dunhill had been the subject of comment for nearly a year.

"The women planned to capture Mrs. Richardson and the men were to take Dunhill and the rail-riding party was to be a "double-header."
The men failed to find their victim and Mrs. Richardson rode alone.
The men stood on the sidewalks and cheered.

For ten years Richardson, who is a paralytic, has gone about in a wheel chair. He said to-day:

"They were really rotten to my wife, but I guess she had not done right. I don't believe she will ever come back."

Thursday's 97 Mark For Heat Threatened

With a record temperature of 83 degrees at 8 o'clock, as registered by official thermometer, Friday morning is to go Thursday one better along the coast. According to all signs, Thursday's high mark of 97 degrees probably will be broken by at least one degree.

The weather man says there is little prospect of rain for several days.

She Slaps Children; Women Convict Her

PETALUMA, CAL., July 18.—A jury of twelve women convicted a woman, Mrs. W. B. Waldorf, upon a charge of battery here. This is the first jury of women that ever tried a case in Sonoma County.

Mrs. Waldorf was accused of having slapped a neighbor's children. The jury was out less than an hour.

Broken Neok Hended; Ice Cream Kills Him

MARINETTE, WIS., July 18.—After surprising the medical world by recovering, after his neck was broken in a runaway accident several weeks ago, Hiram Reeves, head of a rural telephone company at Onondaga, is dying
of poisoning from eating ice cream.

Mrs. Robert Goelt Takes Up Painting

NEWPORT, July 18.—Mrs. Robert Goelt is becoming an adept at painting in oil, occasionally visiting the studio of Henry Chew, Jr., which is being used by RICHARD BAKER, a clever painter of Newport.

THE WEATHER

CARBUNCLE CAUSES DEATH.
E. H. Caswell, tax collector of the county, died at Mr. Joseph's hospital, where he was brought for treatment for a carbuncle on his neck,
the first case of the disease, it is believed, in this county since the death of Barzwell.

Senator Smith to Address Assembly On Taxation Laws

Senator Hoke Smith will address a joint meeting of the Senate and House of Representatives Friday. He arrived Atlanta Thursday and in the afternoon enjoyed his first real rest of many months.

The senator will embrace a general discussion of the work ahead of the Democratic party in Congress and the question of tax reform in Georgia.

Senator Smith will remain in Atlanta until the first of next week,
when he will return to Washington.

Mailing Letter, He Pulled Fire Alarm

CHICAGO, July 18.—Leon Wells, of Merlin, Ill., attempted to mail a letter to his mother in his home town,
the result was the heavy arrival of two battalions of fire-fighting apparatus and a large crowd at the busiest corner in Chicago, that of the Massell Temple. Traffic was tied up for several minutes before four fire department officials, 100 firemen, ten pieces of apparatus, a patrol wagon containing ten policemen and an ambulance with three doctors, returned to their stations.

"I thought it was a mail box," explained Leon. "I never saw a fire alarm like that in our town we have a bell in the street."

Los Angeles Will Quit Being 'Pure'

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—"I do not want Los Angeles to be known as what I want is a straight, really clean and upright city."

"Do not depend on the other offer,
the one higher than you in doing the work on your best. Do it yourself and do it right, and see that your best is taken care of."

This was the statement of Mayor H. H. Rowe to 400 policemen during his administration.

Seeks $10,000 for State Fair Prizes

A plan for a $10,000 appropriation for prizes at the GEORGIA STATE FAIR at Macon was made before the appropriations committee of the House Thursday afternoon by John C. Williams, president of the State Agricultural Society.

"Agriculture is our vital and every day industry," he declared. "Every dollar of this appropriation will be spent within the State and will reap
its State a thousandfold."

Committee Favors Income Tax Measure

By a vote of 9 to 5 the income tax bill of Representative Howell, of Ed-
more, was recommended for passage Thursday.

The author said his bill would add $10,000 to the revenue of the State from public service corporations alone. It provides for a tax of 1 per cent on incomes of individuals and corporations in excess of $4,000. Living expenses of individuals are exempted.

America Gets 94,176 From British Isles

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
LONDON, July 18.—The emigration
to the United Kingdom for the year ended March 31 last show that 94,176 emigrants went to non-British countries, an increase of 22,000 over the previous highest total, which was in the year 1911.

The number of those who went to the United States was 54,176. The emigration from America in the same period was 18,819.

FRENCH FLYER KILLED

PARIS, July 18.—Lieutenant Charles, of the aerial corps of the French army, was killed at Chalons to-day
when his monoplane buckled 400 feet
in the air.

"Adam's Clay" is more than a slipery. It is a study of the sex question that is receiving the thought of the world's dearest students. Come Hampden deals with it in a frank,
graphic, convincing way. Can't only gather Monday and attempt to read
it. The story is so good, it is so biting, it is so good.

DETECTIVES TRAIL MAN ACCUISING CONLEY

Prosecution Obtains Character Witnesses for Attack on Story of Negro's Confession.

With Franklin detectives taking the trail in search of W. H.
Mincey, whose starting accusations against Jim Conley stirred the police department and won
the Negro another "newsday,"
from Solicitor Dorsey, the Min-
cey affidavit Friday became the
center about the prosecution
and defense in the Frank
case, waged their battle.

Despite the degree of indifference
with which the detectives and prosecutor officials affected to look upon the remarkable statements of Mincey, it became known Friday that every effort was being bent toward locating
the Negro another "newsday,"
from Solicitor Dorsey, the Min-
cey affidavit Friday became the
center about the prosecution
and defense in the Frank
case, waged their battle.

Finkertons were detailed to make inquiries as to his destination when he left Atlanta three weeks ago after swearing to the affidavit in which he said Jim Conley had boasted to him of killing a man in the same afternoon that Mary Phagan met her tragic death in the National Pencil Factory. Mincey will be severely cross-examined if he can be located.

Finkertons have a plan.

It is understood that the Finkertons have obtained information of Mincey's whereabouts as it has been known through The Georgian publication of the story of the Phagan and Mincey case. Mincey's detailed account of the significant happenings on the day of the murder that he was teaching school in North Georgia.

Although Solicitor Dorsey professes to not greatly concern over the effect that the Mincey affidavit may have in his case against Leo M.
Frank, it is reported that his office is gathering character witnesses for an attack on Mincey's credibility.

Development since the publication of the affidavit indicate that the prosecution feels it must absolutely discredit Mincey's story if there is to be any hope of obtaining a conviction against Frank.

As bitter a fight as that brought on by the Mincey affidavit is being waged
by the members of the Grand Jury and the Solicitor over the question of investigating Jim Conley's connection with the Phagan murder, with a view of bringing an indictment. A number of the members are said to have declared themselves in favor of reopening the case because of the mass of evidence that has piled up against the negro since he confessed to being the factory on the day of the crime.

Regarding an unfair,
They report it as unfair, in view of the incriminating evidence against him, that the prosecution be a party to the arrangement by which Conley goes on the stand merely as a matrial witness instead of as a possible
principal in the crime, in which event
the jury would be compelled to take into consideration the testimony which might Mincey give to the jury against Frank.

The Solicitor, however, is unalterably opposed to any movement looking toward the indictment of the negro.

It is am conjecture that the case and trial that is receiving the thought of the world's dearest students. Come Hampden deals with it in a frank,
graphic, convincing way. Can't only
gather Monday and attempt to read
it. The story is so good, it is so
biting, it is so good.

Speculators Rub Sacred Bull Bald, to Change Luck

CHICAGO, July 17.—Speculators at the stock yards here today embraced a new hope that their fortunes would change and profits would displace the losses that have been general for the last week. The new hope came with the arrival of a sacred bull in a shipment of cattle. Tradition says good luck comes to him who rubs the hump on the back of a sacred bull. The hump on the back of this particular bull was rubbed until bald spots appeared. The sacred bull was one of the cattle sold to a stock yard firm by R. C. Montinger, of Goshippo, Ill.

WOODWARD SCORED BY BROYLES

Can't Convince Ignorant Man
He's Mistaken, Says Judge,
Quoting Epictetus.

WHAT BROYLES THINKS OF THE MAYOR.

He's ignorant. He's naive to civilization. He knows as much law as a boy does political economy.

WHAT WOODWARD THINKS OF RECORDER.

He's a petty case. If he wants to run my office, let him come up and give me orders. "Do not argue with an ignorant man, for you can never convince him he is wrong."

Recorder Nash R. Broyles, quoting Mr. Epictetus, the late well-known Greek philosopher, spoke thusly Thursday. Following this declaration Mr. Broyles then declined to speak with Mayor James C. Woodward over the action in the case of GRIT Freeman, an alleged notorious blind-tiger operator, whom Broyles had sentenced to a 1400 fine and a 30-day term in the stocks, when the Mayor declared he did not propose to see the city prison turned into a modern Siberia by "too severe and exorbitant Recorder."

Mayor Woodward knows as much about law as a hog does about political economy," was the Recorder's remark. "However, to 'set himself right,' Judge Broyles issued the following statement:

"Yesterday a man named Freeman, the most notorious blind tiger out of existence," was convicted of selling whiskey. The evidence was overwhelming. Five white men testified as to Freeman's guilt and one said he had been buying whiskey from Freeman for the last seven years.

Claims Breach of Promise. "The man with having lamped with the registration books, striking names unlawfully and refusing to replace them," was the Recorder's statement. The fight is over a proposition to issue another series of bonds for $250,000 when it is charged, the sinking fund to redeem former issues has been spent unlawfully.

CLASH EAR IN POLICE JANGLE

Jacksonville Mayor Takes Charge
of Force After Ousting Chief, Threatens Impeachment.

JACKSONVILLE, July 17.—Mayor Van C. Swearingin today took personal charge of the Jacksonville police department, refusing to recognize Fred Roach, whom he yesterday suspended as chief of police and who an hour later was reinstated by the Board of Bond Trustees. Orders were issued by the Mayor to the department through Captain Harry Hall.

Chief of Police Swearingin visited police headquarters and made a speech to the members of the force, in which he informed them that he was the Mayor and would handle the force without the aid either of Chief Roach or the Bond Trustees.

A check of authority in the department is now hourly expected. Both Chief Roach and Captain Hall said today they were expecting such and were prepared for it when it came. Hall is friendly to Roach and is only acting under the Mayor because of order.

The Mayor said today he would call a special meeting of City Council and the impeachment charges against all members of the Board of Bond Trustees. The call, however, has not as yet been issued. Some of the Councilmen have openly declared they will not vote to impeach should the Mayor file his charges.

The breach between the Mayor and the Bond Trustees over the control of the police department is widening daily and is expected to reach more serious proportions and result in litigation before peace is restored.

Warrants Issued for Officials at Daytona

JACKSONVILLE, July 17.—Due to a factional fight among politicians at Daytona Beach, warrants have been sworn out against the town clerk and members of the City Council, charging them with having lamped with the registration books, striking names unlawfully and refusing to replace them.

Hundreds See Red Star, Mystery to Sky Students, Fall

Astronomers and hundreds of Atlantans who delight in gazing at the moon were treated to a peculiar and awe-inspiring spectacle about 9 o'clock Wednesday night.

For several nights there had been seen two beautiful stars close to the moon. One was brilliant and perfectly white. Its position was exactly that of the moon. The other was of ruby color, very brilliant. It was above the moon, just a little to the right.

Wednesday night at the hour mentioned, the red star began to move slowly but distinctly, in a southeasterly direction, gradually falling until it vanished just above the horizon. It was about ten minutes from the time the star began its descent until it vanished.

England Rent by Controversy Over Eye-like Fashions

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LONDON, July 17.—There has been a dress controversy similar to that in the United States. The excitement is made to "indolence" by the ban on every side, and numerous letters of protest published in the newspapers today attest the disapproval of the public at large.

A writer in The Evening Standard said that "a woman ten years ago wearing styles seen on the streets today would have been disgraced for life and stamped with the scarlet badge. The fashionable gown being worn in public are so slimy and transparent that the wearer's muscles can be seen underneath. Nothing is worn underneath."

Talk of Pardon for McNaughton Starts

SWAINBORO, July 17.—The case against Mrs. Mattie Flanders, jointly indicted with Dr. W. J. McNaughton for the murder of her husband, Fred Flanders, by poisoning more than three years ago, was finally disposed of Wednesday afternoon by being pronounced by the State for want of sufficient evidence to convict.

This disposition of her case is expected here to turn public sentiment to Dr. McNaughton, and it is believed that a majority of the people in Emanuel County would sign a petition for his full pardon.

WOODWORTH SAYS LUMP WILL COME TO AID HER

Accused Woman to Go on Stand Friday—Barber Is Only An Acquaintance, She Asserts.

A clash between the attorneys in the Crawford will case occurred Thursday morning when Burton Smith, Luther Z. Rosser, Colonel P. H. Brewer and Reuben Arnold forced J. S. James, attorney for the heir-at-law, to retract his charge that they were "perpetrating a nefarious scheme to rob the rightful heirs of Joshua D. Crawford."

The clash came while Colonel Brewer was on the witness stand telling of the litigation in the fight for the $100,000 estate.

Reference was made to a previous statement by Attorney James that the attorneys on the other side of the case were attempting to perpetrate a "nefarious scheme to defraud."

"I demand that a apology be made to this court for that statement," said Colonel Brewer, looking menacingly toward Attorney James.

Threats Fly Prematurely. "It stands on the minutes of the hearing," replied James. Attorney James L. Anderson tried to withdraw order and Luther Rosser was called on the stand.

His first statement was a threat to the attorneys on the opposite side. Looking toward Attorney James, he said:

"I am going to tell everything I know about this case. If any further reference is made to 'nefarious' attorney James I will consider it a personal matter."

Burton Smith, who figured prominently in the case about a month ago by being one of the heir-at-law, and Reuben Arnold, who was Smith's second in the famous fight, took a stand and demanded that full apology be made for the charge and that he be stricken from the minutes.

Arbitration From Record. Attorney James raised no objection. Auditor Anderson ordered that the statement be stricken from the minutes and the case proceeded quietly.

Attorney James obtained permission to introduce another "poison witness" during the hearing Thursday. He would not reveal the identity of his new witness, except to say that it was a physician who had made an examination of the contents of Crawford's stomach.

Expectation that Mrs. Crawford would go on the stand at Thursday's hearing in her own behalf was dashed by the lengthy cross-examination of Colonel Brewer, which was probably will go on the stand Friday morning that she would be able to prove her innocence of the sensational charges, and would produce proof to show that she was a witness in her behalf.

Expected to have Mr. Lump here as a witness, and would have done so had the other side acted properly in the matter," said Mrs. Crawford. "I don't think they would have any trouble in proving their innocence of the charges that connect him with an affair about which he knows absolutely nothing."

Tells of Meeting Lump. "I met Mr. Lump at my house at 12, Georgia street, my only connection with him was that, that was, I had never seen him since

YOUTH ACCUSED IN VICE RING ON TRIAL

Joe North, Alleged White Slave,
Declines to Talk Before
Hearing in Recorder's Court.

Joe North, alleged white slave, arrested on the statement of Elmo Drummond, a young woman who told the police he jured her into a rooming house, will be tried before Recorder Nash Broyles at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and every effort made to get from him the names of other persons in the "vice ring" to which Chief of Police James L. Thayers says North owes allegiance.

North was arrested Wednesday night after a search of very nearly a week. He was put through a severe grilling Thursday morning by Chief Broyles, but declined absolutely to make any statement until he was forced to do so by the court.

Glad to Get Back, He Tells His Friends—Silent on Mexican Situation.

Hon. Hoke Smith arrived from Washington today looking to be none the worse for his arduous labors in the Senate. Not even a question as to the Gainesville postoffice row could ruffle his good humor at being in Atlanta once again.

Senator Hoke Smith arrived in Atlanta from Washington Thursday morning. A number of his personal friends were at Terminal Station to meet him but he stepped off at the back of the train and was well up the stairway when they discovered him.

He intimated he would touch on business properly in that speech. He said he did not care to discuss the Mexican situation.

Carlos H. Mason and John Brice escorted Senator Smith to the automobile which awaited him in front of Terminal Station.

STATE TO FIGHT MINOR ASKED TO MOVE TO INDICT PROBE ACTION OF POLICE JIM CONLEY

Mincey Replies to Attack on Affidavit

In reference to the attacks which have been made on him by the police department and the prosecution, because of his affidavit in the Phagan case, W. H. Mincey has given The Georgian this statement:

I had a few words of evidence that might furnish a clue to bring to justice the thief who killed Mary Phagan.

As soon as this was published the first step taken by the officers of the State was to see if I could be impeached.

As a citizen of the State, I refuse to harbor a self-confessed, drunken murderer, must I be impeached by men whom we are paying to protect our homes, our children and our lives?

Lack of Increase in School Fund and Pension Shrinkage Cause of Big Decrease.

The general appropriations bill for 1913, filed in the House Thursday morning, calls for $250,000 less than that of last year, according to Chairman Crawford Wheatley, of the Appropriations Committee.

Following are some of the appropriations contained in the bill: For the common school fund only the amount paid last year, and a decrease in pensions to Confederate veterans.

To pay the interest on the recognized valid debt of the State maturing in 1914 the sum of $278,816, and in 1915, $277,446.

For the Georgia State Sanitarium, $400,000 for 1914 and $350,000 for 1915—an increase of $150,000 for 1914 and $100,000 for 1915.
